Greetings and welcome to our Fall newsletter, Goddard Talk. September is always a very exciting time of year for all who work in the field of education. Everyone is in a state of anticipation about the future; new students worry about fitting in, teachers and professors worry about the first lecture; coaches worry about the incoming talent; and administration and staff worry about keeping the whole enterprise running. But amidst all the worrying there is a profound sense of joy and accomplishment. Everyone deep down knows they have earned the right to be here and are eager to show what they have to offer.

The Chaplaincy at Tufts and Goddard Chapel are no different. All the Associate Chaplains and myself are very eager to meet the students and launch our programs. The Fall semester is full of opportunities for discussions, presentations, interaction and dialogue. All programs of the Office of University Chaplain and all the Associate Chaplains’ programs are open to all people, all the time. Please consider yourself invited and know you are welcome to attend all programs.

Besides the enclosed information about Chaplain’s Table, Reflections, Noontime Concerts, thoughts on peace and our Chaplaincy Interns, please note the date for our Russell Lecture this year given by Reverend Gloria White-Hammond, M. D. She is a terrific and very inspiring speaker.

Please know of my willingness to be of service to you individually, your family, or your group. I would be happy to do a presentation for you or your group; it is just a matter of scheduling.

Pax et Lux,

God Bless,

Rev. David M. O’Leary
University Chaplain & Adjunct Professor in Comparative Religions & Medical Ethics

THE CHAPLAINCY WELCOMES TWO INTERNS FOR 2006—2007

It is our pleasure to welcome as interns for the 2006-2007 academic year Shareda Hosein and Geoffrey A. Whitlock. Below is some biographical information for them. Look for them around campus and feel free to make them welcome.

Shareda Hosein

The migration of Shareda’s family from Trinidad to Boston when she was eleven shaped her views at an early age, making her better able to help people understand what it means to come from a different religion and culture. Born and raised as a Muslim, she has lived up to her father’s expectations that she remain a Muslim and guide her life by the principles of Islam. Her desire to build bridges and create a more peaceful communication between people of different faiths caused her to apply for a chaplaincy position in the United States Army Reserve. One of the decisions to become a chaplain was observing a young Muslim soldier in Kuwait who didn’t know how to pray and was being taught by another soldier who also didn’t have much more knowledge than she, but he was trying. He was unable to help the female soldier make her ablution for prayer because he couldn’t go into the women’s bathroom to show her, but Shareda was present to do so.

This past April Georgetown University held the 2006 International Prayer for Peace in Assisi, Italy. That unprecedented gathering drew leaders of Jews, Buddhists, Shintoists, Muslims, Zoroastrians, Hindus, Unitarians, traditional African and Native American religions and many others. Together under the roof of the Basilica of Saint Francis, they all prayed, side by side, Catholic, Orthodox, Protestant, Jew, Muslim, Hindu, Buddhist, all coming together as one to pray for peace.

In 1999, again, world religious leaders came together at the close of the millennium to pray for peace. That event, says the Rev. Pat Affleck, a former director of the Interfaith Office of the United Nations in New York, was the “embattled moment of the century.”

In 1986, Pope John Paul II, was convinced that prayer could bring believers together. This was the idea that inspired the 1986 World Day of Prayer for Peace in Assisi, Italy. That unprecedented gathering drew leaders of Jews, Buddhists, Shintoists, Muslims, Zoroastrians, Hindus, Unitarians, traditional African and Native American religions and many others. Together under the roof of the Basilica of Saint Francis, they all prayed, side by side, Catholic, Orthodox, Protestant, Jew, Muslim, Hindu, Buddhist, all coming together as one to pray for peace.

In 1999, again, world religious leaders came together at the close of the millennium to pray for peace and “to refuse to allow religion to be used to incite hatred and violence.”

Another meeting was convened in Assisi in 2002 in the aftermath of the 9/11 attacks. At that gathering, a joint statement was released from world religious leaders calling for the end of violence in the name of religion. Pope John Paul II, declared: “Violence never again! War never again! Terrorism never again! In the name of God, may every religion bring upon the earth justice and peace, forgiveness and life, love.”

Patriarch Bartholomeos declared: “Although we belong to different religious traditions, we affirm that building peace requires loving one’s neighbor in obedience to the golden rule: “Do to others what you would have them do to you.”

General Secretary of the World Council of Churches, Konrad Raiser, affirmed: “We commit ourselves to proclaiming our firm conviction that violence and terrorism are incompatible with the authentic spirit of religion, and, as we condemn every recourse to violence and war in the name of God or religion, we commit ourselves to doing everything possible to eliminate the root causes of terrorism.”

This past April Georgetown University in Washington, D.C., hosted the 2006 International Prayer for Peace. This was the first time the conference started after the 1986 Prayer for Peace in Assisi, came to the United States. More than 850 leaders and representatives of the world’s spiritual/religious faiths came together.

Reverend Constance Wheeler, the Protestant Chaplain at Georgetown University, read the official proclamation:

“Humanity is not made better by violence and terror, but by faith and love. Fundamentalism is the childhood disease of all religions and cultures, for it imprisons people in a culture of enmity. This is why, in front of you young people, we say to those who kill, to those who sow terror and make war in God’s name: Stop! Do not kill! With violence everyone loses! Let us talk together and God will shine on us! Only peace is holy. Let us have and advocate for serious, honest dialogue.”

American Muslim leader Imam Warith D. Mohammed said: “Religious leaders must go to the basic message of their religions, a message of love and peace. People should focus on lifting up the human identity.”

Rabbi Shear-Yashuv Cohen, chief rabbi of Haifa and President of Ariel Institutions of Israel, said: “It is vital that people start talking to one another. How can we ignore the fact that violence is done in the name of religion?”

In the current world events a prayer for peace is needed more than ever. What follows are various prayers for peace from different faith traditions/spiritual paths; may we all go forward holding high the light of peace for the world needs more peace and light.

Prayer of Saint Francis
Lord, make me an instrument of your peace:
Where there is hatred, let me sow love;
Where there is injury, pardon;
Where there is doubt, faith;
Where there is despair, hope;
Where there is darkness, light;
Where there is sadness, joy.
O divine Master,
Grant that I may not so much seek to be consoled as to console,
To be understood as to understand,
To be loved as to love,
For it is in giving that we receive,
It is in pardoning that we are pardoned,
It is in dying that we are born to eternal life.

Hindu Prayer for Peace
O God, lead us from the unreal to the REAL.
Lead us from darkness to light. Lead us from death to immortality. May there be peace on Earth. May all beneficent beings bring peace to us. May all things be a source of peace to us. And may Thy peace itself, bestow peace on all, And may that peace come to me also.

Buddhist Prayer for Peace
May all beings everywhere plagued with sufferings of body and mind quickly be freed from their illnesses. May those frightened cease to be afraid, and may those bound, be free. May the powerless find power, and may people think of befriending one another.

Jewish Prayer for Peace
Come, let us go up to the mountain of Yahweh, To the Temple of the God of Jacob, That he may teach us his ways So that we may walk in his paths; since the Law will go out from Zion, And the oracle of Yahweh from Jerusalem. He will wield authority over the nations and adjudicate between many peoples; These will hammer their swords into ploughshares, and their spears into sickles, Nation will not lift sword against nation There will be no more training for war. O House of Jacob, come, let us walk in the light of Yahweh.

Muslim Prayer for Peace
In the name of Allah, the beneficent, the merciful, Praise be to the Lord of the universe who has created us and made us tribes and nations, That we might know each other. If the enemy inclines towards peace, do thou also incline towards peace, and trust in God, for the Lord is the one that heareth and knoweth all things. And when we address them, we say PEACE.

Baha’i Prayer for Peace
Be generous in prosperity and thankful in adversity. Be fair in thy judgment and guarded in thy speech. Be a lamp unto those who walk in darkness and a home to the stranger. Be eyes for the blind and a guiding light unto the feet of the erring. Be a breath of life to the body of humankind, a dew to the soil of the human heart, and a fruit upon the tree of humility.

Native American Prayer for Peace
O Great Spirit of our ancestors, I raise my pipe to you, to your messengers the four winds, and to Mother Earth who provides for your children. Give us the wisdom to teach our children to love, to respect, and to be kind to each other so that they may grow with peace in mind. Let us learn to share all good things that you provide for us on Earth.

Words by Mother Theresa at Calcutta
“There is only one God and He is God to all; therefore it is important that everyone is seen as equal before God. I’ve always said we should help a Hindu become a better Hindu, a Muslim become a better Muslim, a Buddhist become a better Buddhist, and a Christian become a better Christian.”

Words by Mahatma Gandhi
“Like the bee gathering honey from different flowers, the wise person accepts the essence of the different scriptures and sees only the good in all religions.”

Final Thoughts
Dialogue is an art. It is not the choice of the fearful, of those who give way to evil without fighting. Dialogue challenges men and women to see the best in others and to be rooted in the best of themselves. Dialogue is a medicine that heals wounds and helps make this world more livable for present and future generations. Let us pray for peace. Let us work for justice. Let us have the courage to live the art of dialogue.

Elizabeth Barrett Browning

All earth’s crammed with heaven
And ev’ry common bush afire with God.
But only those with eyes to see
Take off their shoes.
The rest sit round
And pluck blackberries.

GODDARD TALK
FRIENDS OF GODDARD CHAPEL SOCIETY WISH LIST

1. Endow the University Chaplain’s Position “The Name” Professor of Religion & Society. The University Chaplain was established in 1979 by vote of the Trustees, but the position has its roots at the founding of Tufts College in 1852. The University Chaplain reports directly to the President of the University. Responsibilities include the spiritual, moral, and ethical leadership for the University, programming and outreach to all spiritual and faith traditions. Officiate at all Memorial Services and University-wide events, pastoral, engaged and marriage counseling, administration of historic Goddard Chapel and promote relations with all the surrounding religious communities. Other duties are teaching in the Comparative Religion Department and guest lecturing in Medical Ethics at the Boston and Grafton campuses. The Chaplain is very active in the field of Medical Ethics, chairing the Institutional Review Board for human subject testing on the Medford campus and a committee member for the T-NEMC. “The Name” Professor of Religion & Society would get much attention due to the Chaplain’s wide range of public meetings, author of five books (more to come), and numerous country-wide presentations.

2. Gift of climate control/air conditioning/dehumidifiers for Goddard Chapel The “Name” Plaque for Environmental Generosity would be on permanent display in the lounge of Goddard Chapel. This gift would protect the historic Hook & Hastings organ and the priceless Steinway piano. It would also make the worship area of the Chapel comfortable for all religious services, weddings, memorials and concerts year round.

3. Endowing a lecture series or an entire program The “Name” Fall and Spring Lecture at Goddard Chapel or the “Name” Goddard Chapel Forum on . . . . Both events are highly attended events and speak to the Office of University Chaplain’s outreach to all faith traditions and spiritual paths.

4. “Name” Grant for all activities of the Giving Camp at Tufts Six to eight times a year the Office of University Chaplain sponsors the Giving Camp at Tufts for physically and mentally challenged children and adults. Tufts students and “guests” do activities in the community that foster inclusion instead of exclusion.

Please call Goddard Chapel (617) 627-3427 to discuss the above giving opportunities.
