Pastoral Care and Counseling

Pastoral care is a type of care and counseling provided by religious professionals. It involves nonjudgmental and compassionate listening that allows people to share their deepest joys, concerns, and hopes in the context of their full humanity, and for many, their spirituality. It has the goal of fostering a person’s spiritual wellbeing, and if desired can include spiritual guidance, scriptural study, and prayer. It can be a way to think through a relationship or a concern, and it provides a space for confidential sharing in the context of a holistic network of support. It is often especially important in times of loss and grief.

Ordained religious leaders cannot be mandated to share the contents of pastoral conversations, although they may do so out of concern for a person or others. Tufts’ Chaplains are available to provide pastoral care upon request to any member of the Tufts community. Please visit, call, or email the Chaplaincy to make an appointment. If needed, a Chaplain may be reached at any hour by calling Tufts University Police at 617-627-3030.

Leadership Development and Vocational Discernment

Among the many benefits of becoming involved in religious and philosophical communities is the opportunity for leadership development, community building, and vocational discernment. These skills and connections are valuable in whatever paths students take beyond Tufts. Tufts has a proud tradition of preparing students for graduate study in religion and related fields, and supporting students in exploring careers in religious life, interfaith work, and public service. The Chaplaincy offers connections to internships, training, mentoring, references, and networks to support students’ future plans.

Vigils, Celebrations, Weddings and Memorial Services

Throughout the year the Chaplaincy offers invitations and benedictions at university events and coordinates holiday and holy day observances, and we lead the university community in multifaith celebrations such as Baccalaureate and vigils responding to significant local, national, and global occurrences. Tradition-specific lifecycle rituals and sacraments are also offered through our particular chaplaincies. In addition, the Chaplaincy is honored to support the campus and local community by coordinating, hosting, and celebrating the joyous occasions of weddings and holy unions and the solemn occasions of memorial services.
